IN THIS HANDBOOK

When a borrower repays a federal government student loan, everyone benefits. The borrower maintains a good credit rating; lawmakers continue their support of the loan program — enabling more people to pursue educational dreams; and fewer taxpayer dollars are needed to pay for the loan program.

Although a large majority of borrowers repay their student loans, defaults do occur. As an administrator of the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP), Trellis pursues the collection of student loans aggressively — contacting borrowers, reporting to credit bureaus, suspending or preventing the renewal of professional licenses, and capturing tax refunds. Trellis also uses another tool for the collection of defaulted student loans: administrative wage garnishment (AWG). Federal law (P. L. 102-164; as amended by Public Law 109-171; 20 U.S.C. 1095a et seq.) allows for the withholding of wages from defaulted borrowers.

Since Trellis implemented its AWG Program in 1993, the collection of defaulted student loans has increased dramatically. Employers have contributed and continue to contribute to the success of this program. Trellis has attempted to minimize any direct impact the program might have on your business operations.

This handbook provides employers with information about AWG for Trellis and the employer's role in that process. Among other things, employers will learn more about the FFELP, how to withhold and remit earnings to Trellis, and how to contact Trellis in case there are any questions. Please read each section carefully.

The handbook is divided up according to specific areas of information, including:

- ▼ A description of the FFELP and default collection (page 2);
- ▼ An overview of the withholding process (page 3);
- ▼ How to withhold wages (page 3);
- ▼ How to remit withheld earnings (page 4);
- ▼ What to do if a debtor has multiple garnishments (page 5);
- ▼ When to stop withholding (page 6);
- ▼ What happens if you do not comply with this order (page 6); and
- ▼ Contact information (page 6).

Attachments include:

- ▼ Attachment A: Order of Withholding from Earnings (page 8);
- ▼ Attachment B: Employer Acknowledgement of Wage Withholding (page 9);
- ▼ Attachment C: Release of Order of Withholding from Earnings (page 10);
- ▼ Attachment D: Employer Acknowledgement of Release of Order of Withholding (page 11);
- ▼ Attachment E: Employer Notice of Change in Employment (page 12);
- ▼ Attachment F: Modification of Order of Withholding from Earnings (page 13);
- ▼ Attachment G: Subordination of Order of Withholding from Earnings (page 14); and
- ▼ Attachment H: Public Law 102-164; 20 U.S.C. 1095a et seq. (page 15).

THE FEDERAL FAMILY EDUCATION LOAN PROGRAM

The FFELP is a government-sponsored program that, through June 30, 2010, provided low interest loans to help students and their parents pay for education beyond high school. Under the program, loans were made through a public/private relationship involving borrowers, schools, lenders, guarantors, and the federal government; private lenders (such as local banks or credit unions) provided the money for the loans.

Although FFELP originations ceased effective June 30, 2010, Trellis continues to provide life-of-the-loan support for Trellis-guaranteed loans in its existing $15 billion FFELP student loan portfolio.

TRELLIS' ROLE

On behalf of the federal government, agencies such as Trellis handle the administration of the FFELP, including claim payment, compliance with regulations, and collection of defaulted loans. When a student fails to repay a FFELP loan and the loan enters default (becomes 270 days past due), the holder of the loan files a claim with Trellis to cover the amount. Trellis examines the claim and pays the holder if the claim was properly serviced. Once a claim is paid, Trellis files for reinsurance with the U.S. Department of Education. At the same time, Trellis begins collection efforts up to and including the withholding of wages.

DEFAULT PREVENTION AND COLLECTION

Most borrowers repay their debts. However, some borrowers do not repay their loans, even though many are employed and able to make payments. A number of regulations and incentives have been put into place to prevent the default rate from rising. Trellis has substantially increased default prevention efforts. In addition, Congress has authorized FFELP administrative agencies and the U. S. Department of Education to collect on defaulted loans through the administrative wage garnishment of a defaulted borrower's wages.

LEGISLATIVE AUTHORITY FOR AWG

The Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act (P. L. 102-164; as amended by Public Law 109-171; 20 U.S.C. 1095a et seq.) allows Trellis to garnish up to 15 percent of the debtor's disposable pay or the amount permitted by 15 U.S.C. 1673, unless the debtor provides Trellis with written consent to deduct a greater amount. Employers must garnish an employee's earnings until the defaulted loan has been repaid in full, or until notified by Trellis to discontinue withholding. This law supersedes any state's laws governing wage garnishment.

AN EFFECTIVE TOOL

Trellis' AWG Program ensures that those borrowers helped by the FFELP pay their debts so that others may receive funds to go to school. Trellis believes AWG encourages many employed defaulted borrowers to repay their loans. In those cases where borrowers continue to refuse to honor their obligations, garnishment is an effective tool in debt collection.

THE BASIC STEPS EMPLOYERS FOLLOW FOR WITHHOLDING

PROCEDURE

1. Read the Order of Withholding from Earnings (Order). It contains the instructions on how to withhold and pay the required amounts.
2. Calculate and deduct the amount to be withheld from the debtor's pay for the first pay period that occurs after the employer receives the Order.
3. Send the amount deducted to Trellis according to the instructions.
4. Repeat steps 2 and 3 each payday.

EMPLOYER NOTIFICATION

TRELLIS ACTION

Trellis sends the employer an Order of Withholding from Earnings form (see Attachment A) and an Employer Acknowledgement of Wage Withholding form (see Attachment B). The Order details information about the debtor, including the debtor's name, address, and Social Security Number, and provides instructions for withholding. An additional copy of the Order is provided for the employer to give to the debtor.

EMPLOYER ACTION

Employers should respond to Trellis by completing and returning the Employer Acknowledgement of Wage Withholding form within 10 business days. If the debtor is no longer employed by your organization when you received the Order, simply indicate this on the form and return it to Trellis, or email us at wagewith@trelliscompany.org.

EMPLOYEE NOTIFICATION

The debtor will already have been given notice that garnishment will occur. Before an employer receives the Order, the debtor has received:

- ▼ Many notices of delinquency and finally a Notice Prior to Wage Withholding;
- ▼ An opportunity to contest the garnishment and information about his or her rights and responsibilities in the process; and
- ▼ An opportunity to avoid AWG by entering into a voluntary repayment agreement with Trellis.

AMOUNT OF WITHHOLDING

The instructions below explain how to calculate the amount of earnings to be withheld.

1. Read the Order.
2. Identify the debtor named in the Order.
3. Identify the debtor's gross earnings for the pay period. "Earnings" means compensation paid or for payable personal services, whether categorized as wages, salary, commission, bonus, or otherwise.
4. Identify amounts that can be deducted from the debtor's gross earnings. These are amounts required by law to be deducted and include state (if applicable) and federal income tax, and Federal FICA or OASI tax (Social Security). Employee deductions for health care insurance are also included in this amount. Do not include voluntary deductions such as savings bonds, employee contribution to retirement plans, and the like. However, you must deduct any mandatory contributions for employees who are subject to them, such as deductions for state employee retirement systems.
5. Subtract deducted amounts (amounts from step 4) from the debtor's gross earnings (amount from step 3). This will provide you the debtor's disposable earnings.
6. Multiply the debtor's disposable earnings (amount from step 5) by 15 percent (0.15). The result is the amount to withhold from the debtor's wages each pay day. The employer may round the figure down to a flat dollar amount so long as the resulting figure does not exceed 15 percent of the debtor's disposable pay.

HOW TO REMIT WITHHELD EARNINGS

1. Cut a check for the required withholding amount calculated according to the instructions above. Make checks payable to Trellis.
2. Be sure each check includes the information listed below.
 - ▼ Debtor name
 - ▼ Debtor Social Security Number or Case Number
 - ▼ Employer name
 - ▼ Notation indicating that this is an AWG payment (or payments)
 - ▼ Employer's Federal Employer Identification Number

3. Send the check to:

Trellis
P. O. Box 659601
San Antonio, TX 78265-9601

FREQUENCY OF PAYMENT

Although deductions should be made at each pay period (weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly), remittance to Trellis need not be made more than once each month. You do not have to change your normal pay and disbursement cycles to comply with the Order.

TWO OR MORE DEBTORS

If the employer is making payments to Trellis for two or more debtors, the employer may combine payments as long as the check stub or transmittal sheet details each employee's name and Social Security Number/Case Number and the amount remitted for each debtor.

MULTIPLE GARNISHMENTS

INFORMING TRELLIS

If you receive an Order of Withholding from Earnings from Trellis for a debtor who is subject to other garnishments, you must inform Trellis in writing that other garnishments exist. Trellis will provide assistance in determining how to proceed. It is particularly important that you contact Trellis when multiple garnishments prohibit you from withholding or otherwise change the amount you are required to withhold. You should always wait for a Release of Order of Withholding from Earnings before discontinuing withholding payments to Trellis.

LIMITS REQUIRED BY LAW

The Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1673 et seq.) provides for a 25 percent limit to the total amount of wages that can be withheld from an individual. If the debtor in question is subject to multiple withholdings, this limit may affect the amount that may be withheld for student loan debts. Requirements for calculating these limits are very specific. (For more information, please refer to 29 Code of Federal Regulations 870.10.) As a general rule, if the debtor already has 25 percent or more of his or her wages withheld at the time you receive the Order, you may not withhold additional amounts for student loan debts, and you must obtain a Subordination of Order of Withholding from Earnings. (See Attachment G.) If the amount being withheld is less than 25 percent, however, you should still withhold up to that limit but contact Trellis so that your withholding order can be modified. (See Attachment F.)

MULTIPLE STUDENT LOAN GARNISHMENT

The U.S. Department of Education requires the conducting of multiple student loan garnishments on a employee if the first garnishment results in a withholding of less than 25 percent of the employee's disposable pay. This includes garnishment orders from a guarantor and the Department of Education or orders from more than one guarantor. Multiple garnishments cannot cause the total amount of wages withheld from an employee's disposable pay to exceed 25 percent; however, there are certain exceptions. The total amount garnished will vary from 25 percent if:

- An order is for child support, in which case up to 50 percent of an employee's disposable pay may be garnished for support; or
- The amount by which the employee's disposable pay exceeds 30 times the minimum wage is less than 25 percent of the employee's earnings, in which case the lesser amount is the maximum amount which can be withheld. 15 U.S.C. 1673(a)(2).

A first-in-time rule applies to multiple student loan garnishments; that is, an employer must honor the first student loan garnishment order it receives, to the fullest extent that an employee's earnings are eligible for withholding. If, after application of the first student loan garnishment, additional earnings are eligible for withholding, the employer should then apply the next student loan withholding order it has received, to the extent earnings remain eligible for withholding. Please note that if no amount of an employee's disposable earnings is available to honor Trellis' garnishment order, or if the amount available is less than 15 percent of disposable pay, an employer must still notify Trellis regarding its inability to comply, or fully comply, with the garnishment order.

PRIORITIZING GARNISHMENTS

Garnishments for child support or IRS levy take precedence over withholding for student loan debts, regardless of when they begin. If you receive a garnishment order for child support or IRS levy after you have received an Order of Withholding from Earnings from Trellis, you must immediately contact Trellis' AWG Team at (512) 908-4125. Other questions about prioritizing multiple garnishments should also be directed to the AWG Team.

CHANGES IN CALCULATION

Amounts garnished for child support and IRS levies should be deducted from gross wages along with other deductions required by law to be withheld. The 15 percent calculation should be based on the remaining disposable pay.

WHEN TO STOP WITHHOLDING

RELEASE OF ORDER

To inform an employer to stop withholding, Trellis will send a Release of Order of Withholding from Earnings form (see Attachment C) to the employer. The employer should continue to withhold earnings from the debtor's paycheck until notified by such a release that the employer is no longer responsible for withholding the earnings of the debtor. The employer should then complete and return the Employer Acknowledgement of Release of Order of Withholding from Earnings (see Attachment D), which will be provided with the release.

WHEN THE DEBTOR ENDS EMPLOYMENT

When a debtor for whom the employer has been withholding earnings terminates employment, the employer should notify Trellis in writing within 10 business days. In addition, the employer must also supply the debtor's last known address and the name and address of his or her new employer, if known. This will help ensure that the debtor can be located and that the new employer will be notified promptly of the withholding requirement. Income earned up to the termination date and any other compensation, such as severance pay, are subject to withholding. The Employer Notice of Change in Employment form (see Attachment E) has been provided in this handbook for your convenience. Please make as many copies as you need.

EMPLOYER COMPLIANCE

Employers can help keep taxpayers' costs down for the student loan program by complying with these AWG procedures. There are penalties for non-compliance with the Order and for retaliation against employees.

NON-COMPLIANCE

If the employer fails to withhold wages following the receipt of an Order, Trellis may sue the employer to recover any amount that such employer fails to withhold from wages due to an employee, plus attorneys' fees, costs, and punitive damages, in the court's discretion.

EMPLOYER DISCRIMINATION

Under federal law, an employer may not discharge from employment, refuse to employ, or take disciplinary action against an individual simply because that individual is subject to AWG. The affected employee may sue an employer who takes such action. Should the employee prevail, the court must award attorneys' fees, may order reinstatement of the individual, award punitive damages and back pay to the employee, or order such other remedy as may be reasonable and necessary.

20 § 1095a

§ 1095a. Wage garnishment requirement

(a) Garnishment requirements

Notwithstanding any provision of State law, a guaranty agency, or the Secretary in the case of loans made, insured or guaranteed under this subchapter and part C of subchapter I of chapter 34 of title 42 that are held by the Secretary, may garnish the disposable pay of an individual to collect the amount owed by the individual, if he or she is not currently making required repayment under a repayment agreement with the Secretary, or, in the case of a loan guaranteed under part B of this subchapter on which the guaranty agency received reimbursement from the Secretary under section 1078(c) of this title, with the guaranty agency holding the loan, as appropriate, provided that—

- (1) the amount deducted for any pay period may not exceed 15 percent of disposable pay, except that a greater percentage may be deducted with the written consent of the individual involved;
- (2) the individual shall be provided written notice, sent by mail to the individual's last known address, a minimum of 30 days prior to the initiation of proceedings, from the guaranty agency or the Secretary, as appropriate, informing such individual of the nature and amount of the loan obligation to be collected, the intention of the guaranty agency or the Secretary, as appropriate, to initiate proceedings to collect the debt through deductions from pay, and an explanation of the rights of the individual under this section;
- (3) the individual shall be provided an opportunity to inspect and copy records relating to the debt;
- (4) the individual shall be provided an opportunity to enter into a written agreement with the guaranty agency or the Secretary, under terms agreeable to the Secretary, or the head of the guaranty agency or his designee, as appropriate, to establish a schedule for the repayment of the debt;
- (5) the individual shall be provided an opportunity for a hearing in accordance with subsection (b) of this section on the determination of the Secretary or the guaranty agency, as appropriate, concerning the existence or the amount of the debt, and, in the case of an individual whose repayment schedule is established other than by a written agreement pursuant to paragraph (4), concerning the terms of the repayment schedule;
- (6) the employer shall pay to the Secretary or the guaranty agency as directed in the withholding order issued in this action, and shall be liable for, and the Secretary or the guaranty agency, as appropriate, may sue the employer in a State or Federal court of competent jurisdiction to recover, any amount that such employer fails to withhold from wages due an employee following receipt of such employer of notice of the withholding order, plus attorneys' fees, costs, and, in the court's discretion, punitive damages, but such employer shall not be required to vary the normal pay and disbursement cycles in order to comply with this paragraph;
- (7) if an individual has been reemployed within 12 months after having been involuntarily separated from employment, no amount may be deducted from the disposable pay of such individual until such individual has been reemployed continuously for at least 12 months; and
- (8) an employer may not discharge from employment, refuse to employ, or take disciplinary action against an individual subject to wage withholding in accordance with this section by reason of the fact that the individual's wages have been subject to garnishment under this section, and such individual may sue in a State or Federal court of competent jurisdiction any employer who takes such action. The court shall award attorneys' fees to a prevailing employee and, in its discretion, may order reinstatement of the individual, award punitive damages and back pay to the employee, or order such other remedy as may be reasonably necessary.

(b) Hearing requirements

A hearing described in subsection (a)(5) of this section shall be provided prior to issuance of a garnishment order in the individual, on or before the 15th day following the mailing of the notice described in subsection (a)(2) of this section, and in accordance with such procedures as the Secretary or the head of the guaranty agency, as appropriate, may prescribe, files a petition requesting a hearing. If the individual does not file a petition requesting a hearing prior to such date, the Secretary or the guaranty agency, as appropriate, shall provide the individual a hearing under subsection (a)(5) of this section upon request, but such hearing need not be provided prior to issuance of a garnishment order. A hearing under subsection (a)(5) of this section may not be conducted by an individual under the supervision or control of the head of the guaranty agency, except that nothing in this sentence shall be construed to prohibit the appointment of an administrative law judge. The hearing official shall issue a final decision at the earliest practicable date, but not later than 60 days after the filing of the petition requesting the hearing.

(c) Notice requirements

The notice to the employer of the withholding order shall contain only such information as may be necessary for the employer to comply with the withholding order.

(d) No attachment of student assistance

Except as authorized in this section, notwithstanding any other provision of Federal or State law, no grant, loan, or work assistance awarded under this subchapter and part C of subchapter I of chapter 34 of title 42, or property traceable to such assistance, shall be subject to garnishment or attachment in order to satisfy any debt owed by the student awarded such assistance, other than a debt owed to the Secretary and arising under this subchapter and part C of subchapter I of chapter 34 of title 42.

(e) "Disposable pay" defined

For the purpose of this section, the term "disposable pay" means that part of the compensation of any individual from an employer remaining after the deduction of any amounts required by law to be withheld.

(The Higher Education Act of 1965, title IV, § 488A [20 U.S.C. § 1095a.], as amended by
