NOW AVAILABLE VIRTUALLY (ZOOM)!

Each presentation with discussion and Q&A are 50 minutes. The modules have been carefully crafted to provide critical money management and financial literacy information so students can make informed decisions.

Managing Your Student Loans

It's important to know what you owe. In this session, you'll discover repayment options for your federal student loans and learn about the impact of certain academic decisions on your repayment.

Plan and Spend

Good money management habits can have a lifetime of value. In this session, you'll learn how to create spending plans and cash flow statements, how to understand and differentiate needs and wants, and how to track where your money is spent.

Monitor and Protect

Awareness is key to protecting your money. Learn the warning signs of fraud, scams, and identity theft, as well as how to respond to them in this session.

Save and Build for the Future

Saving for an emergency, a home, and retirement starts now. In this session, you'll learn about different types of bank accounts and investments, how they're used, and why they're important.

Borrow Smart

Credit decisions can have long-lasting effects. In this session, you'll learn about types of credit, interest rates, credit reports and scores, credit to avoid, and how to resolve serious debt problems.

Work and Earn

Getting prepared for the working world is easier with resources and support. In this session, you'll learn how to interview, negotiate salary, and land a job. You'll also learn about payroll taxes and deductions on your paycheck.

Being Smart About Student Loans

In this session, you'll learn the importance of tracking both federal and private student loans, as well as the implications that loan mismanagement can have on your credit histories.

Upon completion of each session, the attendees will receive a handout via email with additional information and resources. At the institution's request, we can email a list of your student's name and email who attended the webinar.

We can schedule and present any session on the date and time that is most convenient for your students.

Additionally, we have sessions scheduled this spring, each beginning at 4 p.m. Central. You can view sessions and registration links here: https://aie.info/spring-finlit-series. Register today!
